

DIABOLUS MUNDUS

NEW WORKS BY AARON THOMAS: SEPTEMBER 5th – OCTOBER 5th, 2008

Opening Reception: Friday, September 5th, 6-10pm

Do you ever wonder what causes life's trivial annoyances, like lost remotes, runs in nylons, or misplaced car keys? Aaron Thomas blames it on the devil. Many little devils in fact. Mischievous grin's and beady little eye's are a prominent feature in Aaron's new show entitled Diabolus Mundus, meaning Devil World. Now a footwear designer at DC Shoes, Aaron graduated from the illustration program at Art Center College of Design in Pasadena. During that time he created a devil character for Rob Clayton's media experimentation class, the result of which has spawned into his latest body of work. Thomas' paintings are character-driven, meticulously executed, and a great example of pop surrealism at it's finest.
